5 REPORT TYPES

One set of pages, combined for each audience

Every report type uses the same data and page templates

● = page used in that report

Report type	 p1 Cover	 p2 Investment drives impact	 p3 Pillar overview	 p4 Pillar chapter	 p5 Outcome data	 p6 Region / deliverable	 p7 Estimated value	 p8 Impact recap	 p9 Formula appendix	Length

Why this design: the reference reports are "one report for everyone". Tackle AI assembles pages for each audience automatically — staff choose a report type instead of redesigning. This is our main improvement on the references.

Board Summary Report type

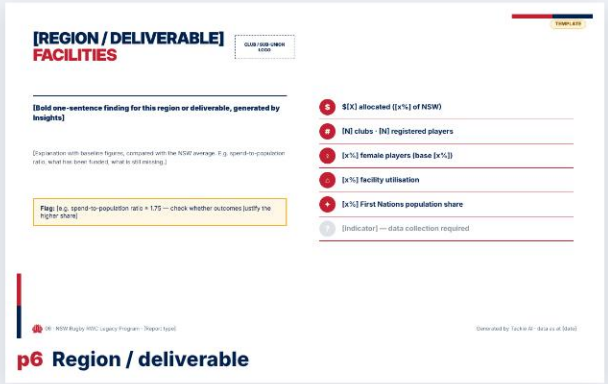

Audience: NSW Rugby Board and executive 3 pages · 5-minute read

Pages used (grey = not used)

Close-up

Changes from the full report, and why

Keep only the overview, risk flags and recap
The board makes decisions; it does not need detail on every pillar

Page 6 becomes a “regions to watch” summary
Lists only regions and deliverables that trigger Flags (spend ratio ≥1.75 or ≤0.5)

Add a “decisions for the Board” box to page 8
For example, whether to fund extra data collection

No long text or large photos
Each page keeps only numbers, one finding and the flags

Ref: Birmingham 2022’s 25-page executive summary — conclusions first, detail in the full report

Funding Acquittal Report type

Audience: Office of Sport (funder) 6 pages · formal and verifiable

p3 Pillar overview

p5 Outcome data

p7 Estimated value

p9 Formula appendix

Changes from the full report, and why

Page 2 shows "grant vs actual expenditure"
The funder needs to see money was used as planned, not just "known allocations"

Page 5 keeps only indicators tied to grant targets
Every indicator compared with baseline and target

Valuation must include full assumptions and appendix
The funder will check it, so page 9 is mandatory

Add a declaration and sign-off section
An NSW Rugby officer confirms the data is accurate

Smaller photos and quotes
The focus is evidence, not promotion

Note: the final format must follow Office of Sport requirements — confirm at Partner Meeting 4

p8 Impact recap

Changes from the full report, and why

Keep the full structure

Chapters by pillar, like the Legacy ’23 Post-Tournament Report

Page 4 repeats once per pillar

Pillars 1, 3 and 4 each get a chapter with identical layout

Page 6 features only 1–2 regions

Used as case studies rather than listing every region

Show only completed valuations

Unfinished values read “in progress”, or the page is left out

Ref: overall structure of the Legacy ’23 Post-Tournament Report

Community Story Report type

Audience: Clubs, parents and local communities 3 pages · people and stories

Pages used (grey = not used)

p6 Region / deliverable

Changes from the full report, and why

Led by photos and quotes
Page 4 enlarges the quote and uses local participants' photos

No more than 3 numbers
Only the easiest to understand, e.g. "12 new female players"

Page 6 told from the local club's view
The title uses the club's name so locals recognise themselves

No valuation or formulas
Community readers do not need SROI, and it can be misread

Plain language
Avoid terms such as baseline and attribution

Ref: Scottish FA p32 quote page; Legacy '23 personal stories

Media Release Report type

Audience: Media and public 1 page

Pages used (grey = not used)

Close-up

Changes from the full report, and why

Page 2 adapted into a one-page release
Headline + lead sentence + 3 key figures + one quote + one photo

Only "green", high-confidence data
Media quote figures directly, so uncertain numbers stay out

Add "About NSW Rugby" and a media contact
The standard ending of a press release

Human approval before release
AI-generated text must be signed off by the communications team
